

Odonaja Collabs with Zaryna For New Single “Dark Thoughts”

Dark Thoughts Single Artwork

[Melbourne, AUS - June, 8th 2018] Co-written between Melbourne producer Odonaja and alternative trap artist Zaryna, “Dark Thoughts” is an unapologetic and vainglorious confession. Featuring smoky vocals, the tranquil guzheng riff and soaring synths peak to a defiant chorus “they call me crazy, crazy - crazy lady - shit that’s me.”

Within 5 hours of their first collaborative session, the pair had ultimately laid down the bones of the track. Odonaja comments, “it was a natural and authentic flow of creativity, combining both our unique quirks into one”.

About Zaryna:

Commanding the streets of Melbourne, Zaryna is a relentlessly authentic artist with a hell of a mean streak. A concoction of pop, trap and hiphop, she is the epitome of sass. With an aggressive and an unapologetic demeanour, her lyrics are raw and evocative - possessing a dark fragility she wears confidently on her sleeve.
